

A SLOW COUNT

Harrison Still Well Ahead in California.

It Looks as Though Hilborn Were Elected to Congress.

The Tulare Contest Now Being Heard in Court.

Election News from the East—Republicans in North Dakota Save One Candidate from the Week—Contests in Nebraska.

By Telegram to the Times. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The combined official and semi-official returns from 1172 precincts in California outside of San Francisco give Harrison 92,674, Cleveland 88,102; Harrison's plurality, 5572.

It is claimed today that a mistake has been discovered in the count of one of the precincts in Alameda county which will change the result in the Third Congressional District in favor of Hilborn (Rep.) and on the face of the returns thus thirty-one in the district.

Official returns on the Legislative candidates are still coming in slowly, and no material changes over the semi-official returns have been noted.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—The following is the official count of Kern county, with three precincts to be decided, which were thrown out by the supervisors for informalities in the returns: Harrison, 992; Cleveland, 1266; Bidwell, 54; Weaver, 201. For Congress: Powers, 882; Hamilton, 179; Harris, 52; Johnson, 1036.

Wedge Cross of Tulare county is holding court here to decide the case upon the writ of mandate compelling the supervisors to count the vote of the precincts thrown out.

NEBRASKA.

THE LEGISLATIVE MAY BE TIED. OMAHA (Nebr.), Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] One of the most important election contests ever known in this State was begun in the Supreme Court. It is an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the Clerk of Clay county to issue a certificate of election to the Republican candidates for the Legislature on the ground that the independent candidates who received a majority of the votes had been endorsed by the Democrats and in printing the official ballots the names of the independent candidates were placed twice on the tickets.

At the same time another contest from Knox county has started which if successful will unseat an independent representative and seat a Republican. If these changes are made the Legislature will be tied on joint ballot.

KANSAS.

SIMPSON AND FUNKHOFF ELECTED. TOPEKA (Kan.), Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] Official returns show the election of Joseph Simpson to Congress by 1400 majority. It is now believed he will not try for the Senate, as the fusionists fear they will not be able to elect his successor in the House. Mr. Simpson charges that he is a Democrat and merely using the People's party. He says he favors a Democrat for Senator, but will not run fair with us in this time and we will need them in the future.

On the face of the returns from the Second District, Funkhoff is reflected to Congress by 68. Moore, his Democratic opponent, has given notice of a contest.

NORTH DAKOTA.

THE FUSION TICKET A SWEEPER. BISMARCK (N. D.), Nov. 16.—Latest returns give Shortridge (fusionist) for Governor, 1800 majority. The entire Fusion State ticket is elected, except that Dahl (Rep.) for Secretary of State, has 200 majority.

Joseph Has Got There. SANTA FE (N. M.), Nov. 16.—Returns from eleven counties give Joseph a majority of over 500. The upper house of the Legislature has two Republican majorities, but the lower house is Democratic. The report that Catron will contest Joseph's election is not credited.

Fusionists and Prohibition Combine. ST. PAUL (Minn.), Nov. 16.—It is stated that the fusionists of North Dakota will ally themselves with the Prohibitionists and make vigorous war on saloons.

Another Republican Congressman. GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.), Nov. 16.—Official returns show the election of Benjamin (Rep.) to Congress from the Fifth District.

PRELATES IN COUNCIL.

Important Gathering of Catholic Archbishops in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] A conference of Roman Catholic archbishops of the United States, together with Archbishop Satrioli, papal legate from Rome, is in session in the palace of Archbishop Corrigan. It may have results of far-reaching character. The session is entirely private, but it is understood to be chiefly for the consideration of the educational question in this country. Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul is present and will probably present his views on the subject.

The conference is extremely private, and is hedged about with all possible care to prevent interruption of the proceedings and escape of the results, if any. It is thought, and may be stated semi-authoritatively, that before the proceedings had gone far, Archbishop Satrioli presented a paper containing fourteen points for the consideration of the conference. The paper is said to have been not merely a presentation of views to be considered, but an authoritative and conclusive instrument.

A reception was given to Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Satrioli and other church dignitaries at the Catholic club in West Fifty-ninth street, tonight. President-elect Cleveland was among the distinguished guests, and was warmly greeted by Rev. Flower, from Fava and many other notables were present.

Short in His Accounts and Missing. HAMBURG (N. Y.), Nov. 16.—It is reported that M. A. Schwert, the Town Collector, is short in his accounts between $18,000 and $18,000. He is missing. His mother claims that she will lose $5000 through her name being forged to checks.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

Politics Making the Memphis Convention a Lively One.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union was in executive session all day, and the press adjourned at present, and is seeking to outguess F. Tillman of this State, member of the National Executive Committee. His offense is that, after his coadjutors sent 200 official circulars advocating the election of Gen. Weaver, Tillman used the stationery and his official position to send out an equal number of circulars advocating the election of Cleveland. Tillman was also general manager of the National Literary Bureau, and the charges amount to a breach of faith. His circular was to the effect that the Alliance men could not hope to elect Gen. Weaver; that they should support Cleveland and thus defeat the Force Bill.

It is reported that to make the change another executive board will be selected. This would throw out C. W. Macune also, and members claim it is a clear triumph for the Populist wing, and insures the election of Joseph P. Morgan, president. Tomorrow's session is likely to witness a lively combat.

COULD NOT BAT.

Los Angeles Loses the Game With the Oakland.

San Francisco Gets Away With San Jose by a Score of 6 to 2—Boston Given the Fenwick.

By Telegram to the Times. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The Oakland team defeated Los Angeles at the Piedmont grounds this afternoon by a score of 6 to 2. The game was a pitchers' battle, and very little hitting was done against De Wald and Balz. For five innings Los Angeles did not get a hit against De Wald. The poor fielding of Los Angeles assisted Oakland in running things. The score:

The Labor Leader on His Favorite Theme.

Annual Address of the Master Workman to the Knights.

He Urges Workmen's Organizations to Consolidate.

He Reviews the Recent Strikes and Claims that the Strikers Were Deceived Because They Were Not United.

By Telegram to the Times.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] At today's session of the Knights of Labor, General Master Workman Powderly delivered his annual address. Among the matters dealt with was the recommendation that all local assemblies should be made up of mixed membership, including men and women of all trades and occupations. Many failures of attempts at betterment of conditions in the past had resulted from the fact that members in other trades were not acquainted with the conditions of the particular trades sought to be improved. Hence were not in a position to sympathize and help in the struggle. Powderly continued:

Too many labor organizations are struggling for the supremacy. The tendency of the labor movement seems to be to divide up, while that of the opposing force, capital, is to consolidate and thereby gain strength in the fight against industry. The result is that labor is beaten in detachments. Something must be done to remedy this. There exists no reason why every branch of toil should not be enrolled under the shield of the Knights of Labor.

The speaker congratulated the organization on the gratifying result of the agitation for ballot reform inaugurated by the General Assembly of Hon. G. N. Wilcox from the Reform party, and Messrs. Cecil Brown, Mark Robinson and Peter C. Jones, from the business community, the National Reform and Liberal parties being practically left in the make-up of the new ministry.

The present Cabinet will probably stand for three weeks and have that little span of official life granted so as to facilitate the dispatch of official and legislative business which has piled up in the succession of deadlocks of late occurrence. The Emergency Bill to cover the payment of salaries for October and until November 30 was presented today and reads now, "to include December 31."

Wilcox, who has been in the cabinet, its members are all untried men in ministerial positions. Minister Wilcox is not the one of revolutionary fame, but a white Hawaiian with American proclivities. He is a sugar-planter, wealthy and a politician.

He has charge of the Interior Office, Minister Mark P. Robinson of the Finance Department and Minister Cecil Brown were opponents at the late election. He would fix a term of years—three or four—before they could be re-elected to seats as members of the National Reform party. Minister Jones was formerly a member of the house of Representatives, and a politician.

He was formerly a member of the Legislature, and journeyed to the United States, visiting Portland, Or., and Boston, and being absent two years. Attorney Cecil Brown has only lately returned from a trip to the old world. He was formerly a member of the Legislature. The movement to place this ministry in power was a coup d'etat by Marshal Wilson, the Queen's dignity being maintained and the principle of hereditary rule by the Reform majority rule, being practically ignored. Yet the Cabinet has been accepted by all parties to hold office at least three weeks.

The speaker brought against Daniel Logan, editor of the Bulletin, a resolution against United States Minister Stevens in connection with the shipwreck of the Campbell, came up in the Police Court November 8, and W. F. Wilcox, who was charged with the prosecution, moved that the case be dismissed, and did not desire that it go any further. Deputy Attorney General Wilder then moved that a note be entered, and Judge Foster granted the request. Attorney-General Creighton, on being informed of the proceedings, stated that the prosecution of Logan had been undertaken as a necessary consequence of the controversy between the American Minister and the Hawaiian government.

Objections have been made in some quarters to landing of troops twice, and sometimes three, a week from the U. S. S. Albatross, which is now in the harbor of Boston, has publicly announced that in future the marines of the men-of-war will be landed but once a week, and then in one company.

Unity Club Short Talks. The second of the Unity Club series of lecture talks was delivered last night to a good-sized audience. Dr. Le Moyne Willis read a paper on the hospital question and made some highly practical suggestions for the establishment of a general institution of the kind in Los Angeles. The doctor's remarks were warmly received and he was followed by Prof. A. A. Willihartiz, who made a highly interesting talk on the subject of institutions for the blind. It had not been generally known that Dr. Willihartiz belongs to an expert on the subject upon which he discoursed so fluently, but it appeared that he had had a practical experience in the instruction of the blind, and his talk was full of interesting points. The white man was scientific and plucky enough, but Child simply beat down his guard with his terrific fists, and punched him all around the ring for three rounds, at the end of which a foul was claimed by Rivers' friends. As he failed to toe the scratch when time was called for the fourth round, the referee awarded the fight to Child, but declared all bets off.

Notorious Outlaws Lynched. CHEYENNE (Wyo.), Nov. 16.—Word has been brought from Buffalo of the assassination of two more outlaws. The dead ones were John and George Hankins, fugitives from Montana. Both were shot in the back near Hot Springs, Fremont county. Four outlaws have been killed in that vicinity in the same way, within two months. Brown was one of the most notorious cattle-thieves in Wyoming.

Immigrant Quarantine Regulations. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The Treasury has issued its circular modifying the immigration policy of the Government, concerning restrictions on steamer passengers. Vessels bringing immigrants as cabin passengers will not be refused entry after passing the local quarantine. The passengers, however, must submit to medical examination.

ANOTHER "MURCHISON."

He Rises to Solemnly Declare That He Never Wrote to Lord West.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] M. W. Murchison, the alleged writer of the famous letter which led to the recall of the British Minister, Sackville West, from the country, four years ago, for the first time since the letter was published has consented to talk about it.

"I am," he said, "one of the unfortunate men who have fame thrust upon them, and although the public may look upon the matter as a joke, it has been a very serious matter to me. I have been about, had a type-writer in my room, and all because some one, whose conduct I shall not stop to characterize, forged my name. I was never in California in my life. I never wrote the letter attributed to me. I never published the letter previously, because when it was written I was on my farm in Ontario. My father was ill and died and then I was ill. The matter had gone too far then. It would have done me no good to deny it. Whether the man who wrote the letter used my name by accident or design is more than I know. This is the first time I ever talked for publication on the matter, and I hope the public will believe me. If an affidavit will help matters, I'm ready to swear that I never knew Sackville West, never wrote him nor ever had personal knowledge of anybody's writing him."

HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS.

A Makeshift Ministry Appointed by the Queen.

It is Expected to Continue in Power Only Three Weeks—The United States Minister Drops His Label Suit.

By Telegram to the Times.

HONOLULU, Nov. 9, via San Francisco, Nov. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The ministerial deadlock which existed here on the departure of the steamer Gaelic on the 24 inst. continued until the afternoon of the 8th inst., when it was ended by the appointment of a coalition cabinet consisting of Hon. G. N. Wilcox from the Reform party, and Messrs. Cecil Brown, Mark Robinson and Peter C. ## AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

LOS ANGELES THEATRE—The Three Guardsmen.

Will Grover give back those flags this time?

GROVER is mighty "sassy" to those tiger fellers. It is so different after election.

PLEASE have that extra session of Congress, Mister Cleveland; it will be such fun.

THERE are people who say that Carnegie was the Burchard of 1892. It looks plausible.

If there is anybody that is keeping so still you could hear a pin drop, it is Mr. Bidwell of Chico.

AFTER all, politics is a very unprofitable field to cultivate. What are you planting this fall?

THE Democratic roster as an emblem should have the decency to give way to the tiger, for the beast is on top.

THEY are still "all tured up in" San Francisco, attacking each other with slung shots, a'fectives and things.

THAT was a striking scene in New York when the elephant and tiger danced together, and Chaucery made the fun.

FIRST a political aviator, and then a landlaid of able editors. Everything seems to be coming right on everything else's heels this fall.

IF Los Angeles county attends strictly to business during the next four years, we shall have enough of a Republican immigration by 1896 to keep that banner here for good.

VIRGINIA is going to send a statue of Pocahontas to the World's Fair, but when the man from the cow counties sees it he will think that is the place where they sell cigars.

"What kind of a hand was it that Mr. Ruggles of Omaha held?" will go into history along with that dear old moss-covered query about who killed William Patterson, Esquire?

SOME of the local Federal brigade, it is said, haven't caught their breath again yet since the result was announced last week; and, worse yet, they may never catch it officially.

REPORTS from Coffeyville indicate that Emmett Dalton has been fed up with choice provender until he is about fat enough to kill. Let the good work be finished up without further delay.

COL. POPE, who is making the fight for good roads, ought to be given Tom Carter's job next time. He is the most tireless campaigner in the entire work. The Republican party should snap him up at once.

WITH California fruit laid down in London, via New Orleans, at a cent a pound, as is proposed, there ought to be a ready market at good prices for the product of every arable acre in Southern California.

WE may be sure that the general boom in business and foreign investments which will result from the World's Fair will all be credited by our Democratic friends to the success of Cleveland at the polls.

THE Santa Rosa Republican goes out of its way to say that a man with a fat stomach does not look well in a street parade. Well, Grover isn't going to carry a torch; what is our Northern neighbor kicking about?

THE New York World declares that "this victory does not mean free trade." Now, Pulitzer, he fall down, and you will see the whole kit and bilin' of 'em go the same way. As usual with our Democratic friends, they dass't.

TELEPHONE girls sometimes think they have a hard time in this country, but how would they like to work in Belgium, where operators are required to pass an examination in English, French, German and Flemish, and be able to draw a correct map of Europe?

Now that the election is over, it's about time for people in this section to make a strong pull, a long pull, and a pull altogether for those three improvements, the Salt Lake railroad, the Nicaragua Canal and the San Pedro harbor, which will revolutionize business hereabouts.

CLEVELAND will shortly know something about the "draw" he'sive power of public plunder. The man with a pull is already camping right on his trail, and we can hear him from here, singing that plaintive ballad: "There are moments that one wants to be alone—this is one of them."

FREQUENT disclosures of the wholesale destruction of infants, as a business, like that recently reported from Australia, make one doubt whether so-called Christian countries are, after all, far ahead of China, where, on the banks of rivers, one occasionally sees a sign, "Do not drown female infants here."

WORLD'S FAIR SOUVENIRS.

You Can Get One of the Columbian Half Dollars Through "The Times."

It is officially reported from Chicago that the World's Fair souvenir coins are "going like hot cakes," and those who want to get one or more of them will have to hasten themselves or they will be too late. The desire for one of these mementos of the exposition seems to be almost as universal as the interest in the exposition itself, and orders for them have been sent in from all parts of the United States and also from foreign countries.

This souvenir half dollar, it is learned from Washington, will be the most artistic coin ever issued from the United States mint. On the obverse side will appear the head of Columbus, designed from the Lotta portrait, and surrounding it the words, "World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1892." On the reverse side will appear a caravel, representing Columbus's flagship, and beneath it two hemispheres. Above the caravel will be "United States of America," and beneath the hemispheres, "Columbian Half Dollar." There is no doubt that this coin will prove to be the most distinctive and most sought after low-priced souvenir of the World's Fair.

All of the souvenir coins except five are being sold at a uniform price of $1 each. For the first coin struck off $10,000 has already been bid for the 400th, 1492d, 1892d and the last coin. Desiring that these souvenirs be distributed as widely as possible among the people, and that all, irrespective of locality, have an equal chance to obtain them, the Exposition authorities have sought to prevent syndicates and others from purchasing large quantities and thus "cornering" the sale.

A vast number of inquiries by letter have been received at Exposition headquarters asking how the coins may be obtained. One way is to get them through local banks, all of which are no doubt willing to accommodate in that way their patrons. It, however, for any reason it is desired to obtain them otherwise, it can be done by the people of Southern California through THE TIMES. We have made arrangements with Col. A. F. Seeburger, treasurer of the World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, for a supply of these unique coins, which will be distributed only as premiums to subscribers of THE TIMES, both new and old, on terms below.

It is probable that the coins will not be ready for distribution until some time in December. But the orders are being sent in to Exposition headquarters rapidly, and will be filled in the order of receipt there. If purchased there, however, it will be necessary to order the coins in lots of not less than fifty, costing $50; whereas, THE TIMES has made arrangements which will enable its subscribers to procure these souvenirs singly and without trouble. It is important that all who desire coins should put in their orders as soon as possible.

THE SOUVENIR COINS CAN BE OBTAINED. With one yearly subscription to the SATURDAY TIMES AND WEEKLY MIRROR, $1.30, and 70 cents additional—$2.00 in all—one souvenir coin will be given.

With three yearly subscriptions to the weekly and $4.00, one souvenir coin will be given.

With six yearly subscriptions to the weekly and $8.00, two souvenir coins will be given.

With one quarterly mail subscription to the DAILY TIMES, $2.25, and 75 cents additional—$3.00 in all—one souvenir coin will be given.

With one six-months' mail subscription to the DAILY TIMES, $4.50, and 50 cents additional—$5.00 in all—one souvenir coin will be given.

With one yearly mail subscription to the DAILY TIMES and $9.00, one souvenir coin will be given.

With one quarterly subscription to the DAILY TIMES, $2.25, and 75 cents additional—$3.00 in all—one souvenir coin will be given.

With one six-months' subscription to the daily delivered by carrier, $5.00, and 50 cents additional—$5.50 in all—one souvenir coin will be given.

With one yearly subscription to the daily delivered by carrier, $10.00, one souvenir coin will be given.

Any person, man or woman, boy or girl, can get up a club among friends and acquaintances and thus secure one or more of these unique and precious souvenirs. Money payable in advance in every instance.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY, Times Building, Los Angeles.

Humors of the Situation.

Two of the most peculiar turns in party maneuvering that we have ever seen are those which follow the recent Democratic victory in the national election. They are so peculiar, in fact, as to be grotesque and even to have many elements of the humorous about them. Strange to say, the Republicans are getting most of the fun out of the situation.

Nearly every Republican paper in the United States comes out flat-footedly and acknowledges that the Republican defeat is overwhelming; that a large majority of the people have repudiated its policy of protection, and, consequently, there is nothing to do but to accept free trade in its fullest significance. There is no call for a tempering of the wind to the shorn lamb of protection. Many Republicans openly say that, inasmuch as the Democrats have achieved a victory, they are glad that the victory is complete, carrying with it the full responsibility of administration. With the offices of Chief Executive and all his advisers, and with both houses of Congress under their control, there are absolutely no "strings" on the Democrats to prevent them from carrying out their announced policy to the uttermost jot and tittle. The Republican press urges them to do, and "the sooner the quicker." It even insists that they are morally bound to do it; they cannot keep faith with the country in any other way.

And, as for the repeal of the tax on State banks, and the reestablishment of a currency with more or less wildcat in it, the Republicans are ready for that also. They say with general accord "Let the manerige be opened."

Any other little idiosyncrasies of the Democratic party which may be lying perdue in the Chicago platform are apt to receive an equally cordial welcome from the party which has been elected to stay at home and play opposition.

This attitude is calculated to set the Democrats to thinking. In fact, it almost takes their breath away. The more they think about it, the more peculiar they feel. The Republicans are altogether too willing. What does it all mean, anyhow?

The Democrats have been so long employed as a purely negative party—opposing everything that the ruling party proposed—that opposition has become second nature to them. They do not know how to apply themselves to any other line of policy. Hence, when the Republicans with one accord urge them to stand by their own platform and redeem the pledges which they have given the people, they naturally become suspicious, and there are indications that they may even become mulish. They are a little like a spoiled child, which has been raised Cain to have its own way, and, when told to do just as it wants to, refuses to do anything at all, and will not be placated on any terms.

All this, it strikes us, is rather funny; and the humor of the situation is developing more and more every day. Some of the not-heads of the Democratic party, immediately after election, set up a shout for an extra session of Congress, in order that the tariff-tinkering might begin at the earliest possible date. The Republicans were prepared to acquiesce gracefully in this also. But word comes now that Cleveland does not desire an extra session of Congress—in fact, he will not have it. That settles one proposition at least. For Cleveland is a "bigger man" than the Democratic party; nobody need doubt that. At the very first movement, then, the ultra-tariff reformers have met a rebuff.

When it comes to a careful reconsideration of the relations between Cleveland and his party, we are again impressed with the fact that the party made a fight upon one platform and Cleveland made a fight on another. In his letter of acceptance he not only modified the extreme and brusque declarations concerning the tariff embodied in Watson's plank, but he ignored the State currency question altogether, and put in a clincher in the opposite direction by saying something in favor of sound money. Now the question arises, which platform goes? Did the Chicago convention outline the policy of the Democratic administration, or did Mr. Cleveland outline it? And, if it comes to an issue between the two, which will have the upper hand?

We incline to the belief that Mr. Cleveland is going to be master of the situation. Among the extreme tariff reformers of the Democratic party there will be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth in the next four years. The President will probably insist on a conservative policy, with a gradual reduction of the protective tariff, and as much incidental protection as can be retained. If this course leads to an open rupture between Cleveland and the ultra wing of his party, why, there is just so much more fun for the opposition.

Considering the welfare of the country in an unprejudiced way, it is, of course, better that a conservative policy should be adopted, even though it leads to a continuance of Democratic ascendancy, than that, by precipitate, injudicious and arbitrary meddling with trade relations, a financial panic should be precipitated. It is better for all of us, in a material way, that the Democrats who have the reins of government in their hands do not make fools of themselves. We might displace them the sooner for their blunders, but we would have to pay a heavy price in dollars and cents for the conquest. This, we think, will be the sober second thought of Republicans all over the country.

If the Republican party gathers up its shattered forces, kicks out some of the elements that have been making use of it for their own advantage and its undoing; adopts broad, living issues for its advocacy, and stands firm for the better government of the Nation, the time is not far off when it will be returned to power. Even without precipitating a commercial reaction upon the country, the Democrats may be depended upon to make mistakes enough to unsettle their present hold upon the people. Turn about is fair play, and Republicans can afford to await their turn.

The Forthcoming City Election.

The city election is only about two weeks ahead. While it may be a little trying to pull ourselves together for another campaign before we have done shouting and mourning over the last election, and before all the election bets are settled, it is one of the glorious duties and prerogatives of American citizens to do so—that is, pull themselves together—and we might as well get it at. In facing the approaching contest for the control of the city administration, we do so with a good deal of equanimity and confidence. Whatever may have been the mistakes and misunderstandings of the recent campaign—whatever its jealousies and cross-purposes which have been buried out of sight and hearing by the election, we hope, and the Republican party of Los Angeles can now present a united front. There is no good reason why the ticket presented by the recent Republican convention should not be elected. It is a sound ticket, nominated by sound methods on a sound platform. It is true that there were some badly disappointed men at the close of proceedings, but that was inevitable. It is impossible that all aspirants who present themselves before a convention can be nominated. Some are bound to be left; but if they are satisfied that they were beaten in a fair contest, there should be "no kick coming." This, we think, is the case with the unsuccessful aspirants before the recent city convention, and, if their voluntary professions are to be believed, they will one and all work for the success of the ticket.

Los Angeles is still a Republican city by a handsome margin over all opposing parties and factions, as was demonstrated in the late election. There is every reason why this ascendancy should be maintained in the forthcoming contest. The Democratic ticket will be the only one in the field as a real contestant. The Populites are not strong in the city, and the Prohibitionists have a certain fixed vote at the latter end of the procession, which can be computed about as accurately before the election as after it.

All that Republicans need to do is to organize their campaign on thorough-going business principles, refrain from the mistake of over-confidence, every Republican voter make it his business to be at the polls, all do the requisite amount of "hustling" to get out a full vote on election day, and they are sure of a victory.

The projected free labor bureau, which some ingenious local statesmen evolved from his inner consciousness (before the election) is a measure of doubtful expediency, and the City Council and Board of Supervisors will do well to go slow on it until its practicability and usefulness become more apparent. The government cannot go into the employment agency business with any hope of benefiting either the public or the individual. Somebody wants a fat job as "manager"—that's the size of it.

The latest report in regard to the whereabouts of those elusive train robbers, Evans and Sontag, comes from Fresno, and is to the effect that they have escaped from the United States and are safe in Europe, having been traced to London. There are still several precincts in which the presence of the two tourists has not yet been reported by "credible eyewitnesses."

A SAN FRANCISCO paper, referring to the vote in Southern California against the San Francisco depot act, says the object of the voters was to injure San Francisco. This is not so. The idea of the vote of the dissidents, was that the Southern Pacific Company is rich enough to do a little more spending on its own account.

The sockless Jerry Simpson is re-elected after all. But there is a fly in his ointment. Mrs. Lease says he is a Democrat, and merely using the People's party as bait. But Jerry really need not feel bad about this, as the woods are full of statesmen who have been doing the selfsame thing and are proud of it.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATRE.—No more flattering tribute to his fame as an artist could possibly have been tendered to Alexander Dumas, than the reception accorded him last night at the Los Angeles Theatre, upon the occasion of his first appearance in this city. The auditorium of that pretty little house being packed to state of discomfort, even standing room being at a premium, the reception accorded him by the local society was there, and, as a matter of consequence, a more fashionable assemblage has not been seen in this city since the house was opened.

The play presented was Dumas's famous comedy Don Cesar de Bazan, which was produced on a scale of magnificence seldom seen in this city, the scenery, all of which is carried by the company, being especially striking, and the costumes rich and elegant.

Salvini, in the title role, was the life and soul of the whole piece. His performance of the debonnaire spendthrift, who, knowing naught of fear, jests at death, was superb; but not until the last act did he exhibit the full range of his magnificent powers of scene with the king, in which he opens his monarch's eyes to his own misdeeds by reminding him of a certain letter with the outside, being a magnificent effort. Only one little fault marred what was otherwise a remarkably fine impersonation, and that was that he was very creditable. He was to have been picked up by the rest of his company, to speak his lines so rapidly as to render them unintelligible to his audience.

Of his support but little need be said beyond the fact that the fallings of its incidents were very creditable. Surely by comparison with the brilliancy of the star.

William Redmond makes a handsome king, and certainly the better part of the play is his. "Don Cesar" was hardly equal to the emergencies required of her in this very difficult part, while Mrs. Marks' "Lazarillo" was more of an automaton than a human being.

Dumas' The Three Guardsmen is billed for this evening.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.—The next attraction at the Grand Opera-house will be Mrs. Julia Marlowe and her company, which includes Robert Taber, who open a three nights' engagement on Tuesday next. Her repertoire consists of As You Like It, Much Ado About Nothing, Twelfth Night and Innocent. The sale of seats opens today.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

Closing Sessions of the Woman's Parliament.

A Permanent Organization Effected and Officers Elected.

Several Interesting Papers Presented, Followed by Discussion.

The Difference in the Treatment of Boys and Girls at the Whittier Reform School Considered—Questions and Answers.

The largest, and by far the most enthusiastic mass meeting of women ever held in Los Angeles closed yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, after a two days' session in the Church of the Unity.

The organization of the Woman's Parliament of Southern California has been effected and counts its members from all but one of the six southern districts. The following officers were elected: General president, Mrs. Elmina D. Stephens; secretary, Mrs. Mary S. Gibson; treasurer, Mrs. Sarah P. Judson.

A vice-president and a recording secretary were appointed for each district as follows: San Diego, Mrs. Mary Waterman, (secretary not appointed); San Bernardino, Mrs. M. Stillman; Redlands, Mrs. Wall; Orange, Mrs. Watson; Los Angeles, Mrs. Lila P. Sprague; Pomona, Mrs. H. C. Burnan; Santa Barbara, Mrs. Emily G. Wright; Mrs. Leslie.

During the sessions yesterday papers were presented as follows: "Education," Mrs. C. H. Keyes of Pasadena; "Dress," Mrs. Sarah F. Judson; "Sun-choot Wood," Mrs. Kate Tupper Calpin; "Higher Physical Culture," Mrs. C. M. Shelton of Pomona.

Discussions followed the presentation of these papers, participated in by twenty or more different ladies. The one possible fault to be noted with the parliament was in the too great abundance of riches. Large space would be required to give a careful digestion of the valuable papers and able discussions. The paper on "Dress," presented by a woman clad in garments advocated by the dress reformer, and accompanied by blackboard illustrations, was specially entertaining. As a result the parliament pledged itself to give its attention in favor of improvement in woman's dress, no particular style, however, being adopted.

A feature of the parliament was the question box and among the problems were the following:

Can a reference be alluding to the general discussion of yesterday afternoon and ask why the girls at Whittier are not given the same training, the same privileges, calculated to lead to a rich and pure future life, as are the boys? Here is an institution supported by the State wherein there is the greatest difference in the treatment of the boys and girls. To make my meaning plainer, I will give a few points illustrating this difference: First, come the education advantages; the boys not only attend school, but are taught trades—whichever each chooses and is most likely to succeed in—thus fitting him to cope with the world after he leaves school. The girls, on the other hand, are not taught trades, but are given a liberal education, which will enable them to live pure and honorable lives, and give them equally with the boys all the advantages to cultivate mind and body, the only difference being that which would naturally arise from the different sex.

The boys are not only given greater advantages of education, but in the past many of them have been given the opportunity to travel abroad, to see the world, and to feel that they were cared for, and that we all wished to help them.

Have the girls been taken anywhere or given the same advantages? No. Why could not the girls have been taken to the mountain or given a trip, and there study botany, sketching, etc.?

Why is this difference made between two of God's creatures? Simply because one is born a boy and one a girl. Surely the home that is fathered and mothered by the grand and glorious State of California is able to give the son and daughter equal advantages in their several ways.

Shall this have attention? Mrs. Broadwell of Los Angeles, who presented the question, stated that she had heard some of these other facts from employees of Whittier, and that she had read newspaper accounts of the boys—that the matter had perplexed her and that she thought we should understand this more fully. She suggested several more questions.

Mrs. Gibson was called upon to answer these questions, as her paper alluded to had touched upon fallen girls.

Mrs. Gibson, whose husband is a trustee at Whittier, stated that she would answer the questions as truthfully as possible, and wished to have it thoroughly impressed upon the women that she in no way criticized the management of that institution. That in California did not mother the institution, that men fathered it and that the best men could not do even the government housekeeping. They need for this purpose, and will always need, the women for mothering. That in every other institution and on the grand jury women were needed to have eyes for the necessities of the boys; that no institution even that catered to the needs of women, would have napping and no handkerchiefs—chevrons and no under-shirts; that she believed that the men in charge of this institution were probably doing their best, but that California had no mothering and the tailor who taught the boys received $60 or $75. Twelve or fourteen of the girls spend their whole working time (time not devoted to school) in making boys' suits—tailoring.

The girls make nearly all the boys' shirts, and until recently did a great quantity of mending.

The girls do not do the housework for the boys, as they live in a separate building, a mile away from the large school.

A library is being collected for the girls' building, and when the books now on hand are bound the girls will have a fair amount of good reading matter.

It is conceded to be a much more delicate task to take charge of and reform girls than boys, yet while the State can afford to pay $800 per month for a general superintendent, it cannot afford to pay more than $75 for a matron of the girls department.

In regard to taking the girls off on a vacation trip, Mrs. Gibson stated that it would be entirely unwise on account of the bad men who would be sure to follow in their wake.

Mrs. Galpin's talk on Sunday-school work was the best paper presented and caused wide discussion.

It was determined to hold the next meeting at Pasadena, in three months. Fully 700 women attended the sessions yesterday, and the roll of membership contains the names of women of all denominations and creeds. If the women carry out the sentiment expressed at this parliament they will do much to ward righting wrongs, toward advancing intelligent philanthropy and toward removing that feeling of bigotry, narrowness and jealous competition between churches, which is one of the deathblows to practical Christianity. The outcome of this concerted movement will be watched with interest during the next three months.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

MARRIAGE CHIMES.

The first brilliant wedding of the season occurred last evening at Immanuel Church on the occasion of the celebration of the nuptials of Miss Grace Stewart, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stewart, and Clarence H. Hall, of the firm of Chandler & Hall. The great auditorium was filled with the friends of the popular bride and groom, fully one thousand guests responding to the invitations. The chancel had been magnificently decorated under the supervision of Mrs. J. J. Ayers, aunt of the groom. From the organ loft and platform rose palms and large-leaved plants in every variety, and birds in gilded cages sang continually. A beautiful screen of ferns studded with white and blush roses faced the front of the platform. The organist, Mr. Mason, played several fine selections while the guests were seated. Messrs. Harry Chandler and W. D. Hall acted as doorkeepers. At 8:30 the music changed to the familiar strains of the Lohengrin wedding march and the bridal party came slowly down the aisle, led by two charming little pages, Miss Ellen Staub and Master Edwin Barron, nephew of the bride, who opened and held aside the floral gates while the bridal party passed through. First came the ushers, Messrs. A. J. Walter, Jr., Walter Rose, D. Sale and George Betts, who were followed by two, Misses Flora Howes, Daisy Cockins, Lila Fairchild and Grace Millmore. The maid of honor, Miss Bertha Hall of Oakland, a sister of the groom, came next, walking alone, and lastly came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father. They were met at the floral gate by the groom and his brother, Hubbard R. Hall of Sacramento, who acted as best man, and the four moved forward to the space reserved in front, where they faced the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. Chichester, who pronounced the marriage of the couple in an impressive manner, the little pages, meanwhile standing on either side the minister, and the bridesmaids and groomsmen forming a half circle about the central group. A conclusion of the ceremony, the organ broke into the strains of Mendelssohn's march and the procession passed out in reversed order, the little pages leading and strewing the aisle with rose petals.

The bride's gown was a rich ivory brocade, crinoline, cut princess, with demi-train. The full, puffed sleeves extended to the wrist and the gown came snugly up to the throat, falling away slightly in a V-shaped front. The bride veil was held in place by spray of delicate flowers, fell in filmy folds the length of the train. A necklace of delicate workmanship with a star of emeralds surrounding a central diamond, the gift of the groom, encircled her throat. The elegant simplicity of the costume was most effective and girlish. The maid of honor wore pale blue crepe and carried a big bunch of Marie von Hotte roses. The bridesmaids wore pink and blue, and all respectively, with slippers and gloves of the same delicate tint, and carried pink roses. The only jewelry they wore were the gold pins, in the shape of four-leaved clover, the gifts of the groom. The ushers wore handsome suits, and the little pages tiny rings, presented as souvenirs of the happy occasion.

No formal reception occurred after the marriage, only the bridal party and two or three immediate friends being entertained at the residence of the bride's parents previous to the departure of the young couple for the North, where they will spend a short time, returning the last of the month to West Third Street, where they will receive the wedding guests on Wednesday, November 30 and December 7 and 14, from 8 to 10 p.m.

Some magnificent wedding presents were received in the evening, everything valuable and useful. Among the specially elegant gifts was the point lace handkerchief carried by the bride. The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Hall and mother, mother and sister of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Shanklin, uncle and aunt of the groom, all of Oakland, and Mrs. Barron, sister of the bride, of San Francisco, with her husband. Both young people are native Californians, the bride's parents having resided in Los Angeles twenty-one years, and both have many friends in this city.

N'CALL-AIKEN.

A very pretty wedding occurred Tuesday evening in Pasadena at the residence of the bride's parents on Marengo avenue. The contracting parties were Gertrude McCall, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hutchins, and William Aiken, Rev. Mr. Phelps of the M. E. Church officiating. The bride has for two years resided in Los Angeles with her parents, and has many friends here who hold her in the highest esteem. Mr. Aiken has for some time been one of the leading business men of Colorado, and is interested in many lines in that State. The bride is a quiet, unassuming, and looked very well. The wedding was a very elegant affair, and the bride and groom were elegantly dressed. The bride wore a light blue and white gown, and the groom a dark suit. The wedding was a very elegant affair, and the bride and groom were elegantly dressed.

THE COURTS.

Mutinous Sailors on Trial Before Judge Ross.

The Jury in the Case Unable to Agree on a Verdict.

Several Witnesses Examined in the Wong Ark Murder Trial.

No New Evidence so Far Developed—Chris Jann Granted a New Trial—General Court Notes—Today's Calendar.

In the United States District Court yesterday much of the time was occupied in the hearing of the charge of mutiny against thirteen sailors, the former crew of the ship America. The men have been confined in the County Jail since March, awaiting their trial upon an indictment returned by the grand jury. It appears that when the vessel in question arrived at the port of San Pedro, late in the month stated, owing to a disagreement between Capt. N. S. Harding and the men, the former paid them off and ordered them to leave at once and proceeded to ship a non-union crew. The disturbance which followed the engaging of the new crew led to the arrest of the union men on the charge presented.

At 5 o'clock the jury received its charge, and a half hour later gave notice that they could not agree. The prisoners were remanded to jail in consequence.

WONG ARK'S TRIAL.

The trial of Wong Ark, the murderer of the Chinese woman Goot Gue, was resumed in Judge McKinley's Court yesterday forenoon, and continued throughout the entire day. No new testimony was introduced which possessed any material weight, either for the prosecution or defense. Although the fact that the Court refused to allow the introduction of Goot Gue's dying statement as evidence, was considered as scoring a minor victory for the defense, Wong Yee and Ah Long were placed upon the stand as witnesses, but nothing was elicited from them differing from their testimony given at the previous trial, although the attorney for the defense endeavored to show that the witnesses were purporting themselves by offering contradictory statements. The Judge ruled out all statements offered in evidence at the former hearing in support of the claims of the defense as irrelevant.

Officer Rohm testified to the same effect as he had done before, and repeated the words uttered by Goot Gue as he approached her after the shot was fired, she saying that Ark had shot her and that she would die.

The case has only now been fairly begun again, and it will be some days before it goes to the jury.

TERM JURORS.

The following term trial jurors were impaneled in Department Three of the Superior Court yesterday:

M. Morris, S. Cohen, C. Ketz, Frank C. Young, William Hughes, Charles Elton, W. H. Neiswender, James Russell, W. R. McDaniel, C. O. Browning, D. W. C. Cowan, W. A. Field, Oscar Macy, B. P. Chamberlain, W. A. Orr, J. D. Caldwell, H. W. Folsom, P. Fitzwilliam, J. C. McNery, W. H. McDonald, J. B. Young, John Moriarty, W. B. Scarborough, D. P. Reilly, W. R. Wilson, M. C. Marsh, Andrew Conliff, J. W. Hellman, A. J. Leonard, Millard Fillmore, L. O. Caldwell, H. E. Ingraham, B. T. Tildon and A. E. McConnell.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED.

In Department One yesterday counsel for Chris Jann, the man who was convicted on a charge of incest, appeared before Judge Smith and made a motion to set aside the verdict as rendered and order a new trial, upon the ground that the verdict was not in accordance with the law and evidence offered, quoting in support thereof the section of the Penal Code which cites upon what grounds a motion for a new trial may be entertained. The Court, after listening to the argument, sustained the grounds offered and ordered that a new trial be granted, and set the cause for hearing November 21.

Court Notes.

Judge Wade and a jury yesterday heard the case of Plant vs. Clement, a suit to recover $800 damages alleged to have been sustained by the detention of goods by the defendant belonging to plaintiff. No decision was reached in the matter last night.

In Department Five the plaintiff in the suit for accounting of Reichmuller vs. Garcia et al., has been given five days to file amended complaint.

The appeal case of Stradler vs. Jacoby on motion of plaintiff was dismissed by Judge Shaw yesterday.

Cora Wolfe has been granted by Judge McKinley a decree divorcing her from William Wolfe on the grounds of failure to provide. The case went by default.

The case of Yapp vs. Bowring, being a cause to quiet title to certain parcels of realty, came up before Judge Shaw yesterday, and findings were ordered for plaintiff by default.

Judge Clark, in probate, yesterday ordered an accounting and distribution in the estate of A. J. Joughin, deceased, and granted petition in the estate of H. Haskins, deceased, for sale of realty with additional bond given by petitioner of $2000.

Judges Wade and Van Dyke will today sit in banc to hear the case of Russell vs. Pacific Railway Company and Northwestern National Bank vs. William Alford et al., the cases embracing much the same digest of testimony and documentary evidence.

Upon habeas corpus proceedings Judge Smith yesterday released George A. McKay from custody and ordered the action dismissed. McKay some time ago brought suit against his wife for divorce, and she in turn brought action against him charging an unnatural crime. The evidence was not sufficient to hold the accused, and the above judgment was ordered accordingly.

Glendora irrigation district for approval and examination of bonds issued by the same.

Main Street Savings Bank and Trust Company vs. Mattie E. Grant et al., for foreclosure of a mortgage of $1297.50 with interest.

CRIME AND CRIMINALS.

The Old Reprobate, Walter B. King, Promptly Convicted.

The Heavily Offense With Which He Was Charged Proved Beyond the Shadow of a Doubt—Criminal Notes.

The old reprobate, Walter B. King, who was arrested last Saturday evening on a charge of tampering with several little girls by Officers Ditlew and Rich in his room on South Spring street, where he had two of the girls at the time, was tried in Justice Austin's department of the Police Court before a jury yesterday and promptly convicted. He will be sentenced tomorrow, and it is safe to say that the Court will give him the extent of the law.

The case was very properly tried with closed doors, and the dozens of people who were attracted to the courtroom from morbid curiosity were compelled to cool their heels on the sidewalk.

The arresting officers were sworn and testified to the same horrible state of affairs as published the day after the arrest. The two girls, Emma Moore and Florence Watson, who by the way are well up in wickedness for children of their age, testified against the aged sinner. They denied that the old man paid them anything to visit his room, but he always had candy or something good to eat when they visited him. They admitted that he had been familiar with them.

The defendant refused to be sworn in his own behalf, but he placed Humane Officer Wright on the stand. Mr. Wright swore that King has always borne a good reputation. Witness had known him for some time past and always considered him a good man.

On cross-examination Wright admitted that King has been ordered out of several lodging houses on account of the noise made by himself and young girls who visited his room.

King has been a well-known character about the streets for some time past. He has been a kind of street preacher, and has held forth with the various bands that hold service on the street corners.

It is said that he belongs to a good family and that he has two brothers back East who are wealthy.

Criminal Notes.

James Kalne and Frank Dale, the "hobos" who were convicted in Justice Austin's court day before yesterday for stealing three pairs of pants from the London clothing store day before yesterday, were sentenced to 120 days each in the chain gang by Justice Austin yesterday.

James Burke, the old man who was convicted in the Police Court day before yesterday for stealing a pair of four-bit gloves, was given three days in the chain gang yesterday.

John Johnson, the negro who burned his ex-wife's clothing a few days ago, and was convicted in the Police Court of malicious mischief Tuesday, was sentenced to sixty days in the chain gang yesterday.

The old Italian peanut vender who insists on selling corn and peanuts at the corner of Spring and Second streets, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 yesterday. The old fellow has given the police considerable trouble during the last few months.

Officers Henley and Whaling arrested five Chinamen in Chinatown last evening, and charged them with dealing in Chinese lottery tickets. They were taken to the central station, where they put up $1000 each for their appearance in the Police Court today.

The common afflictions of women are sick-headaches, indigestion and nervous troubles. They arise largely from stomach disorders. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel regulating preparation you can see why it is more effective than any other Sarsaparilla in those troubles. It is daily relieving hundreds. The action is mild, direct and effective. We have scores of letters from grateful women.

A TIDAL wave struck the store yesterday. It was an old-time boom. We had more than we could attend to during the busy trading time. We are showing the largest increase ever made by any dry goods house in this city. Not only in one department but in every nook and corner of the house. The linen trade is becoming more active. The new linen room is being visited by more people; it is beginning to dawn upon the ladies that here is linen headquarters; it is the place where linens are sold at a moderate profit; it is the place to buy blankets and comforts cheap; it is a money-saving department for the reason we are throwing out extra inducements to get your trade and your influence by saying a good word for the linen room and the linen department.

This is the only room for the display of linens west of Chicago. This is a strong assertion but it is true. In a few months others in different cities will hear of our linen room, and they will then become quite the thing. Stamped linens in greater variety here than elsewhere, and stamped linens at a reasonable price. Moderate profits is the only basis upon which we ask your patronage. Other merchants are able to buy linens as cheaply as we do; there can be no doubt upon this point, but are they satisfied with as small a profit? That is the question. We are building up our linen department, and in order to do so quickly make extreme low prices on the goods. This brings the crowds, and with this we get business. It is the same in our Cloak Department. Have you seen a single advertisement from this house during the past year that did not say something about cloaks? The result is cloak sales over four times greater than a year ago. When one dog gets hold of another dog's ear the dog that holds on the longest gets the ear. That beats Ben Franklin on philosophy and it is true. We have been hanging on to the cloak trade like grim death, and we intend to hold on.

That is how we earn our bread and butter, and the bread has been buttered on both sides here lately. Trade about double a year ago throughout the house. P. and P. kid gloves. This has been a kind of an amen to all our advertisements lately. It always comes in at the end; $1,

$1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2. Finis. That is the latin for

"you bet."

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Speculation was again less active. The bears tried hard to depress prices, but were not very successful, though Reading, Chicago Gas, Sugar, Alchison, Cotton Oil, New England and Missouri Pacific each yielded about 1 per cent. The close was dull and tolerably firm.

PASADENA.

Closing Day of the Editorial Meetings Held in This City.

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year—Various Items of Local Interest—People Coming and Going—Brevities.

Yesterday was the second and closing day of the annual session of the California Press Association and the Southern California Editorial Association. The exercises were of such a nature as must have favorably impressed the visitors with the beauty of Pasadena and the hospitality of her citizens.

The California Press Association met in business session at 10 o'clock at the Opera-house, the use of which was generously donated by Prof. T. S. C. Lowe. Nine new members were admitted to the association. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: B. Lemmon of Santa Rosa, president; Charles A. Gardner of Pasadena, vice-president; C. E. Montgomery of Anaheim, secretary; and Gen. Sherman, the present treasurer, re-elected.

Executive Committee: J. A. Filcher, H. A. McFarney, H. G. Woodson, J. Woodson, S. Craig, G. M. Francis and W. T. Lyon. Delegates to the national convention: Messrs. S. Craig, D. McPherson, F. P. Thompson, C. A. Bell, Buckingham, Francis and McFarney. Alternates: Messrs. Holmes, Osborne, Filcher, Dreary, Thompson and Dewey.

Superintendent Walter Lindley, of the Whittier Reform School, asked the members to use their editorial influence aid in obtaining needed legislation in matters pertaining to this institution.

The retiring secretary, Mr. Woodson of the Sacramento Union, presented a paper entitled "Conscience and the Editorial," which was one of the most brilliant papers presented before the convention. The meeting then adjourned.

The Southern California Editorial Association held an adjourned meeting at Hotel Green at 9 o'clock. A report of the Executive Committee was submitted. An invitation to hold the next semi-annual meeting at Ontario was received and referred to the Executive Committee. Eleven new members were received into the association, after which adjournment was had until 7 o'clock.

The afternoon proved undoubtedly of great enjoyment to the visitors. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock a large number of carriages were drawn up in front of Hotel Green and were quickly loaded with the members of the visiting associations and their lady friends. A drive about the city was made, and in this way the next two hours were pleasantly passed. The polytechnic department of Throp University was made an objective point. Here guests were received by the university officials, and after being shown through the various departments were taken to the view of the most appetizing description, as prepared by the young ladies in the cooking department.

Between the hours of 3 and 4 the editors were tendered a reception at the Lowe residence on South Orange Grove avenue. The entire morning had been given to the guests, and its manifold attractions were duly enjoyed, particularly the museum. Many climbed to the lofty tower, from which point a beautiful view of the city, mountains and valley is obtained.

In the dining-room elaborate refreshments were served. The guests were then taken to the lecture hall, where the editor-elect Lemmon of the Press Association expressed the heartfelt appreciation of all the members of the association for the hospitality and hostess, and paid a glowing tribute to Prof. Lowe's various noteworthy achievements and his public spirit. The host responded in a few well-chosen words, after which the company adjourned to the front piazza, where they were photographed in a group.

After the reception came to a close and the visitors were driven back to their respective hotels. Another pleasant feature of the drive was the view of the Raymond Hotel, of bouquets of flowers to the visitors, a pleasant little surprise that had been arranged by Manager Hovey of the Raymond nursery.

The closing session of the State Press Association was held at the opera-house. The attendance was very large, and the exercises were of an interesting character.

The meeting was called to order by President-elect Lemmon, who read a report of the association. The paper of the evening was read by Miss Louise Francis of Castroville on the topic "The Country Editor as God, Man and Devil." Resolutions were passed regretting the absence of W. H. Mills, to whose personal interest much of the success of the association is due, and who was detained at home on account of illness. The Committee on Resolutions submitted its report, which was adopted. Prof. Lowe was elected an honorary member of the association. No other business of special importance was transacted.

The Southern California Editorial Association also met in business session during the evening, but nothing important transpired.

This morning the editors will leave at 9:30 o'clock on the Santa Fé to enjoy a trip over the famous San Joaquin trail, through the courtesy of this company. They will reach Los Angeles this afternoon and tonight a majority of the party will leave for the North.

THE EAST SIDE.

Marriage of a Former Los Angeles Young Lady.

Former friends and acquaintances of Miss Sadie Kennedy, who at one time resided on Griffin avenue and whose father and aunt still live on the East Side, will be pleased to learn of her marriage, which took place last evening in the far-away town of Lansingburgh, a beautiful suburb of Troy, N. Y.

The bridegroom is of course a stranger to those who knew Miss Sadie only as a young lady of unusual musical talent who attended school in this city and with her sisters earned a high place in local social circles. The fortunate young man who tonight leads her to the altar is none other than Miss Sadie's brother, who is one of the most promising young business men of the town where he resides. The couple have the congratulations and best wishes of a large circle of the best people in East Los Angeles society.

Let there be light. At the last meeting of the city fathers, the Electric Light Company made a proposition to light the city for the ensuing year, as follows: For ten or a less number of lights $15 per light per year, and for a full set of lights $11 per light; twenty to thirty lights for $10 per light, and for more than thirty lights, not designated. The proposition is for a slightly less rate than is now paid, but double the rate received by the same company for lighting San Bernardino, and it is in any sort of a company, the Redlands concern can provide a very much better light than that with which the city has been supplied.

One of the Old Landmarks Wiped Out by Fire.

The Old Methodist Church Building in San Bernardino Totally Destroyed—Meeting of Riverside Trustees—Redlands Notes.

SAN BERNARDINO.

At an early hour yesterday morning one of the old landmarks of San Bernardino was destroyed by fire. It was what was known as the Old Methodist Church building, situated on D street, between Second and Third streets. It was occupied by J. K. Parker as a paint shop and dwelling, the front being devoted to the paint business.

A lighted candle ignited some inflammable oils, and the flames soon spread throughout the building. Nothing else was burned, though C. Rouse's transfer barn near by was scorched and came near going. No insurance; loss small. The building was built back in the sixties and was used as a school and a meeting place for the church. It was burned in 1870 by Dr. Peacock, and it was here that the Methodists first met as an organized society in their own building in 1880, they moved from the place to their new building.

Business Men Today Will Visit the Growing Pier—A Rumor About the Salt Lake Road—General Notes of Interest.

Yesterday afternoon while a Santa Fe train was switching at Raymond station a box car broke loose and got away from the train, running down the heavy grade to South Pasadena. At that point the runaway car collided with the east-bound passenger train which left Los Angeles for San Bernardino at 4 p.m. The engineer of the passenger had time to check the speed of his train before the collision, but there was no way to stop the freight car which had gained great momentum in its down-hill run. The meeting was a sudden one to the passengers, but no one was injured. The engine was damaged somewhat and the freight car was wrecked. It was necessary to transfer the passengers around the blockade caused by the wreck. The grade on that portion of the road is so heavy that once a car gets beyond the control of a brakeman it makes a rapid run until it is brought to a sudden stop by collision.

SCRAP HEAP.

The Santa Fe overland came in yesterday in two sections, so heavy was the passenger list.

One span of the Southern Pacific's new iron bridge across the Los Angeles River is now nearing completion, and the second one will soon follow.

W. A. Mitchem, agent for the Santa Fe at San Bernardino; E. B. Stuart, agent at Riverside, and L. H. Hough, agent at Colton, were visitors at the general office here yesterday.

Robert Richardson, stenographer to Assistant General Freight Agent Whitmore of the Southern California road here, has resigned to go into the service of the new fruit company.

The suit of Alport against the Southern California road came up in San Diego yesterday. The plaintiff sued for $20,000 damages for having been put off a train on account of holding a scalped ticket. His lawyers advised him to settle the case for $50, which he refused to do, and his counsel threw up the case.

By invitation of J. M. Crawley, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, a party of Los Angeles business men will today go by special train to visit the big wharf at Santa Monica. The train on which the party will travel will leave San Fernando street station at 1:05 and the Arcade station at 1:17 this afternoon.

The San Francisco Post of the 15th says, as an introduction to a column article on the subject referred to: "There seems to be no reason to doubt the fact that the project for the building of the San Francisco and Salt Lake Railroad, the proposed competing overland line, has completely collapsed. Possibly it would be more exact to say, made it about to collapse, as the organization having in charge the preliminary work still exists, but its usefulness would appear to be ended."

THE OFFICIAL CANVASS.

Considerable Progress Made in the Count Yesterday.

Considerable progress was made in the official canvass of the election returns yesterday before the Board of Supervisors, thirty-one precincts of this city being disposed of, viz: from No. 8 to 14 inclusive, and from No. 16 to 39 inclusive. Precinct 15 was omitted, the officers of election having neglected to sign the returns, as required by law. This defect will, however, be rectified this morning, and the precinct can then be counted. No changes of importance were made yesterday, those necessitated through clerical errors being so slight as to leave the results comparatively the same as before. The canvass will be proceeded with today, when the city will be concluded and probably half of the county precincts.
